

Weight/Resistance Training, Speed/Power/Agility Physical Training/Conditioning

Weight Training Instructors:

Rick Stokes
Blair Havens
Kathy Reed

In sports, power is the ability to produce force rapidly. It is one of the most important fitness components in a strength/speed/power sport such as baseball. How hard you hit the ball, how fast you move on the field or how rapidly and precise you can apply force during the execution of a specific skill often dictates the quality of your performance.
